Dear Parishioners,

It was that first Pentecost that the Apostles received the fullness of God's Spirit that empowered them to begin their mission, given to them by Christ, in bringing the Good News of salvation to the ends of the earth. Through the stories of the Acts of the Apostles we are able to read and learn of some of their experiences of announcing this Good News, and by way of history we know of their amazing success in introducing countless many to the Person and Faith of Jesus Christ. By the power and with the help of the Holy Spirit, the Apostles began to fulfill Jesus' desire and plan for all people to come to know and believe in Him as the Way, the Truth and the Life. To bring the Good News of Jesus Christ, the Good News of salvation, to others is the definition for evangelization. Evangelization is Jesus' first and fundamental command for us to fulfill. All of us have a share in the responsibility of announcing, bringing, telling others of Jesus and the love and mercy that comes to us through knowing and having faith in Him. In the coming year I'll be speaking more on evangelization and what it means for all of us as a parish family, as well as for us as individuals, who have faith in Jesus Christ.

This past year one of the tasks the Parish Council had been working on relates to Pentecost and evangelization. The Parish Council, over the course of these last nine months, worked on developing and writing a parish mission statement. Many of you may have had experiences with mission statements from your places of employment. Some of you may have had good experiences with mission statements, and many of you probably have not. The purpose of the mission statement is to define who we are as a community and our purpose for existing. A mission statement is to give direction and a point of reference for everything that the community does. A mission statement is to capture the broad scope of one's mission in one, straightforward and succinct statement. It is to be short in length in order that it can be easily remembered and then, subsequently, lived out by the community as a whole. A mission statement will often include core values that further define and provide concrete applications for the mission. Please see below the Mission Statement and Core Values developed and written by our Parish Council. I am grateful to them for their work on developing it and I am happy for us to have it so as to help direct us as we look forward to our future.

Come Holy Spirit!
And, have a great week --
Father Mike

Finding the Joy in Daily Prayer

Remember how it feels to be in love? Knowing that someone is thinking of you often, eager for the next time you will meet, anxious to be with you.

This is how God feels about us. He loves us unconditionally, wants to be with us, and patiently waits for our attention. "...You are precious in my eyes, and honored, and I love you ... I will never forget you. See, upon the palms of my hands I have written your name." (Isaiah 43:4, 49:15-16)

But in the hectic pace of daily life, the thought of spending time with God can seem like yet another chore instead of a joy. But when you see prayer as being with the one who loves you most, you can learn how to revel in his very personal love. The key is to find the joy in daily prayer.

"I will come to you in the silence."

Mother Teresa said, "Souls of prayer are souls of deep silence ... we cannot find (God) in noise, in excitement." Unfortunately, few of us have quiet lives, but it is possible to create quiet moments. The first step is to find the right place.

If your home allows, try to create a prayer spot. This can be a small corner in a larger room where you put an altar, a comfortable chair, or even a big pillow — whatever will make you comfortable while you are there. Surround it with statues or holy pictures — anything that will help you focus on God while you pray.

Tip: In a pinch, even a dry bathtub can act as a prayer spot. Close the bathroom door, throw a few pillows in the tub, light a candle, and climb in.

When can you give him your full attention?

Finding the right time to pray may not be as tough as you think. The trick is to find time when you can give God your whole attention. Find a time when you won't feel rushed or hurried.

Can you get up 15 minutes earlier, or postpone going to bed by a few minutes each day? What about praying with your morning cup of coffee? Think about pausing before lunch or after dinner to read a Bible passage or say a prayer.

When you do it every day at the same time it becomes a habit. It's a time you can schedule and protect from the rest of the day's activities.

But don't forget, a quick heartfelt prayer anytime of the day is an opportunity to feel God's peace. Like a brief phone call during the day, it lets God know you're thinking of him and helps you feel his love.

Finding the right way to pray.

Personal prayer is as individual as a fingerprint, much like a conversation with a friend. But formula prayers may be helpful for starting or breaking into spontaneous prayer. You can choose from hundreds of prayers written by great spiritual masters to match your mood and spiritual intent: praise, thanksgiving, forgiveness, petition, and intercession.

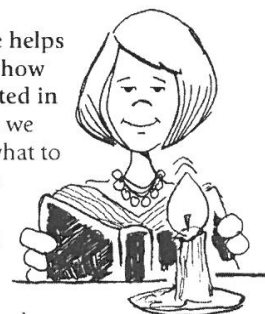

To get ideas, try looking in prayer books such as The Catholic Prayer Book

(Servant Publications, 1143 Highland Drive, Ann Arbor, MI 48108, 734-677-6490) or The Essential Catholic Prayer Book (Liguori Publications, One Liguori Drive, Liguori, MO 63057, 636-464-2500, www.catholicbooksonline.com).

Getting to know him better.

Like any loving relationship, it takes effort to get to know your beloved. The most reliable way to do this is to combine Scripture with personal prayer.

Scripture helps us to learn how God has acted in the past, so we can know what to expect from him in the future. It's a testament to how often he has answered prayer, granted favors, provided guidance, and demonstrated unconditional love.

Exploring Scripture can be as simple as randomly selecting a different passage each day and meditating on its meaning for you. Or you can choose a good study Bible with built-in study guides that give context and background. Ask your priest for help in choosing one that's right for you.

The point is to find different ways to continually seek God. He is always listening and always waiting. "I have loved you with an everlasting love; therefore I have continued my faithfulness to you." (Jeremiah 31:3) Prayer is a great way of letting him know you've heard his call.

ANNUNCIATION CHILDREN'S LITURGY

Liturgy of the Word is a special liturgy available at 10:00 am Mass. Each week a theme that correlates to the Sunday readings and Gospel is presented to the children using age appropriate materials. The adult catechists incorporate prayer, song, group discussion, worksheet, and other activities so the children can relate the Word of God to daily life. The children depart from the front of church after a blessing from the priest prior to the first reading, gather in the school building for the lesson, and return during offertory.

"Helpers Needed" This "helper" role takes no preparation time and you really don't even have to do anything during the lesson except be present. Please contact Jamie Mealey via phone or email for more information, we would love to have you join us! 314-753-9460 or jmealey@monetagroup.com

Dear Brothers & Sisters in Christ,
Each year the Archdiocese of St. Louis provides people with the information to lead them to an encounter with the Lord by promoting the faith through radio advertisements, billboards and digital advertising, along with support of parishes, schools, and ministries. Your support of the Catholic Communications Campaign will help the church's efforts to spread the truth over all modern communications platforms, and will assist parishes like Ste. Genevieve to spread the Truth through Mass to the home bound. I ask you to prayerfully consider furthering Christ's saving message with a donation to the Catholic Communications Campaign this weekend. With your generosity we can make the Church's communication efforts more vibrant as we help others encounter Jesus Christ and His Church. I invite you to visit www.archstl.org/cc to get involved in spreading the Truth, through giving your email address, donating and following the archdiocese on social media. Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Robert J. Carlson
